

Student position: journalistic medical writer

Are you passionate about the health care sector and about journalistic writing? Are you also looking for a way to gain working experience in a relevant field next to your studies? This might be an interesting opportunity for you!

The Decision Group is a consultancy firm in the health and life sciences sector based in Amsterdam. We are specialized in Value-Based Health Care and several times a year we release the “Value-Based Health Care Thinkers Magazine”. This magazine contains expert interviews, blogs and perspective / opinion articles.

We are looking for a student with strong journalistic writing skills and knowledge of the healthcare sector to assist with the production of our magazine.

Your profile

- In possession of a bachelor degree in health and life sciences, journalism, communication or a another related field
- Available for approximately 25 hours a month
- Excellent writing skills in English
- Preferably experienced in journalistic writing and / or graphic design

We offer

- A flexible part-time job
- The possibility to work from home
- The opportunity to be involved in the further development of the magazine and to co-decide on the themes you want to write about

Are you interested in this position? Please send your CV, a short motivation and an example of an article you wrote to l.vselm@thedecisiongroup.nl For more information you can send an email to the beforementioned email address or call our office: +31 (0)20 40 40 111.